

Ethical Issues and Citizen Rights in the Era of Digital Government Surveillance

Part of the Advances in Public Policy and Administration Book Series

Robert A. Cropf (Saint Louis University, USA) and Timothy C. Bagwell (American Public University System, USA)

Description:

Questions surrounding the concept of freedom versus security have intensified in recent years due to the rise of new technologies. The increased governmental use of technology for data collection now poses a threat to citizens' privacy and is drawing new ethical concerns.

Ethical Issues and Citizen Rights in the Era of Digital Government Surveillance focuses on the risks presented by the usage of surveillance technology in the virtual public sphere and how such practices have called for a re-examination of what limits should be imposed. Highlights international perspectives and theoretical frameworks relating to privacy concerns.

Readers:

This book is a pivotal reference source for researchers, professionals, and upper-level students within the e-governance realm.

ISBN: 9781466699052

Release Date: February, 2016

Copyright: 2016

Pages: 303

Topics Covered:

- Cyber Espionage
- Digital Forensics
- Duality Theory Application
- Employee Surveillance
- Personal Data Protection
- School Safety
- Urban Crime

Hardcover +
Free E-Book:

$180.00

E-Book +
Free Hardcover:

$180.00

Order Information

Phone: 717-533-8845 x100
Toll Free: 1-866-342-6657
Fax: 717-533-8661 or 717-533-7115
Online Bookstore: www.igi-global.com

Robert A. Cropf, Professor of Political Science and Director of the M.P.A. Program at Saint Louis University, teaches in the area of public administration and conducts research in the areas of e-governance, policy process, public budgeting, comparative public administration, and state and local politics. Dr. Cropf has been with Saint Louis University since 1991. Dr. Cropf received a B.A. in Government from Cornell and his M.P.A. and Ph.D. from New York University's Robert F. Wagner Graduate School of Public Service. At SLU, he has served as Director of the M.P.A. Program and Chair of the Department of Public Policy Studies. Dr. Cropf is associate editor of the International Journal of Electronic Government Research and is on the editorial board of the International Journal of Information Communication Technologies and Human Development. He is a member of an editorial board of the Advances in Knowledge Communities and Social Networks book series. He is also frequent contributor to the St. Louis Beacon. Dr. Cropf teaches graduate courses in public administration and public finance. He received the Saint Louis University Graduate Student Association Mentor's Award in 2002. Dr. Cropf's research focuses on the areas of public finance, public administration, and policy analysis. He is the author of Public Administration in the Twenty-first Century (Longman 2008) and The Public Administration Casebook (Longman 2011) and editor of Information and Communication Technologies and the Virtual Public Sphere (ICI Global 2011). He has published articles on e-governance, virtual public spheres, and the effect of campaign contributions on state legislators. Dr. Cropf is part of a team that received a $45,000 grant from the BNSF Foundation to develop an on-line graduate course on the future of U.S. rail transportation.

Tim Bagwell is an Associate Professor Public Administration at American Public University/American Military University and an adjunct professor in Project Management at Saint Louis University. Tim has a decade of teaching experience in Public Administration, Project Management, Political Science, Media Studies and Speech Communication and eBusiness.