

Political Scandal, Corruption, and Legitimacy in the Age of Social Media

Part of the Advances in Social Networking and Online Communities Book Series

Kamil Demirhan (Bülent Ecevit University, Turkey) and Derya Çakır-Demirhan (Bülent Ecevit University, Turkey)

Description:

The way in which social media is utilized has changed over the years, making it a growing forum for political discussion. Due to this, analyzing relationships between social media and politics can lead to an increased awareness of current political affairs.

Political Scandal, Corruption, and Legitimacy in the Age of Social Media is an essential research source for the latest information on national and international political propaganda and opinions spread by technological forums. Features expansive coverage on a number of relevant topics and perspectives, such as environmental justice, alternative ideology, and information and communication technologies (ICTs).

Readers:

This publication is ideally designed for researchers, students, and professionals seeking current research on the connection between social media and politics and its impact on modern society.

ISBN: 9781522520191

Release Date: December, 2016

Copyright: 2017

Pages: 295

Topics Covered:

- Alternative Ideology
- Digital Interactive Media
- E-Government
- Environmental Justice
- Information and Communication Technologies (ICTs)
- Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs)
- WikiLeaks

Hardcover + Free E-Book:

$190.00

E-Book Only:

$190.00

Order Information

Phone: 717-533-8845 x100

Toll Free: 1-866-342-6657

Fax: 717-533-8661 or 717-533-7115

Online Bookstore: www.igi-global.com

Table of Contents

Preface

Chapter 1

Neo-Populist Scandal and Social Media: The Finnish Olli Immonen Affair

Juha Herkman, University of Helsinki, Finland

Janne Matikainen, University of Helsinki, Finland

Chapter 2

Scandal Politics and Political Scandals in the Era of Digital Interactive Media

Kamil Demirhan, Bülent Ecevit University, Turkey

Chapter 3

Information Control, Transparency, and Social Media: Implications for Corruption

Chandan Kumar Jha, Madden School of Business, Le Moyne College, USA

Chapter 4

There Is an App for That Too: Citizen-centric Approach to Combating Corruption in the Digital Age through the Use of ICTs

Lloyd G. Waller, University of the West Indies (Mona), Jamaica

Chapter 5

Hashtag Ideology: Practice and Politics of Alternative Ideology

Smarak Samarjeet, Indian Institute of Management Kashipur, India

Chapter 6

The Role of Social Media in Enforcing Environmental Justice around the World

Gayle M. Pohl, University of Northern Iowa, USA

Chapter 7

Navigating the Nexus between Social Media, Political Scandal, and Good Governance in Nigeria: Its Ethical Implications

Essien D. Essien, University of Uyo, Nigeria

Chapter 8

Government Website, Social Media, and Citizens' Perceptions of Corruption: Evidence from Chinese Cities

Liang Ma, Renmin University of China, China

Chapter 9

Social Media's Role in Alleviating Political Corruption and Scandals: The Philippines during and after the Marcos Regime

Cecilia G. Manrique, University of Wisconsin-La Crosse, USA
Gabriel G. Manrique, Winona State University, USA

Chapter 10

Participation, Civil Society and the Facebook Use of NGOs in the Political Events of Turkey

Kamil Demirhan, Bülent Ecevit University, Turkey

Compilation of References

About the Contributors

Index

Kamil Demirhan has been working as an Assistant Professor at the Department of Political Science and Public Administration, in Bülent Ecevit University, Zonguldak, Turkey since 2016. He received his PhD in Political Science and Public Administration from Hacettepe University in 2015. His research interests include political theory, social media and politics, and e-government. He has publications on social media and politics, ICTs and political participation, and contemporary political issues. He worked as a visiting scholar at the School of Communication and Culture, Aarhus University. He took part in several projects on social media and politics, Internet and democracy.

Derya Çakır-Demirhan has been working as a Lecturer at the School of Foreign Languages, Bülent Ecevit University, Turkey. She is a PhD candidate in political science, at Hacettepe University. She received her B.A in American Culture and Literature from Hacettepe University. She received her minor degree and M.A in political science from Hacettepe University. Her research interests are citizenship studies, multiculturalism, immigration, women studies, Turkish politics and American politics.