

Preparing Students From the Academic World to Career Paths: A Comprehensive Guide

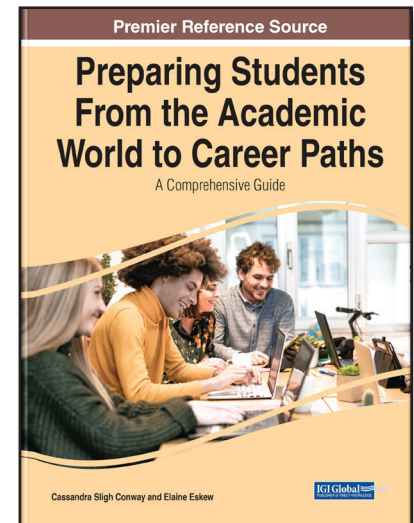

Part of the Advances in Higher Education and Professional Development Book Series

Cassandra Sligh Conway (Independent Researcher, USA) and Elaine Eskew (Consultant, U.S. Department of Education, USA)

Description:

In today's educational field, to ensure students are prepared to make the transition from education to the workforce, students must develop skills that support them in the working world. Further research on these skills is required to assist learners moving forward.

Preparing Students From the Academic World to Career Paths: A Comprehensive Guide provides a comprehensive guide to preparing minority and first-generation students to transition from the academic world into their chosen career path. The book also provides post-secondary educators and student support staff with suggestions to incorporate the recognition and development of transferrable skills in curriculum and advising. Covering key topics such as career readiness, minority students, and student success, this reference work is ideal for administrators, principals, researchers, scholars, academicians, practitioners, instructors, and students.
