

Sliding Mode in Intellectual Control and Communication: Emerging Research and Opportunities

Part of the Advances in Wireless Technologies and Telecommunication Book Series

Vardan Mkrttchian (HHH University, Australia) and Ekaterina Aleshina (Penza State University, Russia)

Description:

The integration of sliding mode in engineering systems has been a focus of research for many years. However, the use of this method in non-engineering systems still requires a better understanding.

Sliding Mode in Intellectual Control and Communication: Emerging Research and Opportunities is a pivotal reference source that intends to fill the gap of available knowledge on characteristics of sliding mode in non-engineering contexts. Highlighting a range of pertinent topics such as information processing, intelligent agents, and virtual communications, this book is ideally designed for researchers, academics, students, and professionals interested in the latest developments in sliding mode techniques and applications.

Section 1

About Theory of Sliding Mode in Intellectual Control and Communication

Chapter 1

The Sliding Mode Technique & Technology (SM T&T) in Intellectual Control (IC)

Chapter 2

Sliding Mode in Virtual Communication

Chapter 3

Sliding Mode in Real Communication

Section 2

Application of Results of Emerging Research and Their Opportunities

Chapter 4

Digital Control Models of Continuous Education of Persons with Disabilities Act (IDEA) and Intelligent Agents in the Sliding Mode

Chapter 5

Terms of Adaptive Organization of the Educational Process of Persons With Disabilities: the use of Open and Distance Learning Technologies (Open and Distance Learning -ODL)

Chapter 6

Providing Quality Education for Persons with Disabilities Through the Implementation of Individual Educational Programs Managed by the Intelligent Agents in the Sliding Mode

Chapter 7

Regulation of Discourse in Accordance with the Speech Regulation Factors Creating Conditions for Adaptability to the Situation

Chapter 8

Complex Social and Medical, Psychological and Educational Support for People with Disability Act (IDEA)

Chapter 9

Tolerance as Reflection of Sliding Mode in Psychology Related Reading

About the Contributors

Vardan Mkrttchian received his Doctorate of Sciences (Engineering) in Control Systems from Lomonosov Moscow State University (former USSR). Dr. Vardan Mkrttchian taught undergraduate and graduate information and control system courses at the Astrakhan State University (Russian Federation) since 2010, where he is the Professor of the Information and Control Systems Department (www.aspu.ru). He is currently chief executive and rector and leader of the international academic scientist's team of HHH University, Australia, (www.hhhuniversity.com). He also serves as executive director of the HHH Technology Incorporation. Professor Vardan Mkrttchian has authored over 350 refereed publications. He is the author of over twenty books in information technology, control system theory, electronics, and cloud and virtual education technology. He also has authored more than 190 articles published in various conference proceedings and journals.

Ekaterina Aleshina graduated from Penza State Pedagogical University, the Faculty of Foreign Languages with English as a major and German as a minor (Philology), getting qualifications of a teacher of English and German. E. Aleshina got her PhD in History from the above university in 2006 followed by the title of associate professor in 2008. In 2009-2010, E. Aleshina was doing Fulbright Faculty Development Program in Southern Connecticut State University (USA). While in the USA, she was invited as guest speaker to several universities and high schools. In 2010-2014, E. Aleshina was head of department of English and English Language Teaching Methodology at Penza State Pedagogical University, now she is head of department of Foreign Languages and FLT Methodology at Penza State University. Currently, E. Aleshina is doing her doctoral research in the specificity of political communication at Moscow Pedagogical State University. She has authored about 50 publications featuring interdisciplinary issues and approaches.
