

Using Global Collective Intelligence and Creativity to Solve Wicked Problems: Emerging Research and Opportunities

Part of the Advances in Religious and Cultural Studies Book Series

Ziska Fields (University of KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa)

Description:

Today's world is continually facing complex and life-threatening issues that are too difficult or even impossible to solve. These challenges have been titled "wicked" problems due to their radical and multifarious nature. Recently, there has been a focus on global cooperation and gathering creative and diverse methods from around the world to solve these issues. Accumulating research and information on these collective intelligence methods is vital in comprehending current international issues and what possible solutions are being developed through the use of global collaboration.

Using Global Collective Intelligence and Creativity to Solve Wicked Problems: Emerging Research and Opportunities is a pivotal reference source that provides vital research on the collaboration between global communities in developing creative solutions for radical worldwide issues. While highlighting topics such as collaboration technologies, neuro-leadership, and sustainable global solutions, this publication explores diverse collections of problem-solving methods and applying them on a global scale. This book is ideally designed for scholars, researchers, students, policymakers, strategists, economists, and educators seeking current research on problem-solving methods using collective intelligence and creativity.
