

Comparative Perspectives on Civil Religion, Nationalism, and Political Influence

Part of the Advances in Religious and Cultural Studies Book Series

Eyal Lewin (Ariel University, Israel), Etta Bick (Ariel University, Israel) and Dan Naor (Bar Ilan University/Ariel University, Israel)

Description:

Throughout history, as well as in contemporary times, religion has had a significant impact on society and culture. Many times religious undertones are incorporated into political agendas or social movements in an effort to spur action from and engage the masses.

Comparative Perspectives on Civil Religion, Nationalism, and Political Influence investigates how belief systems, political behavior, and public action impact the general populace. Features theoretical concepts and empirical research across pertinent topic areas.

Readers:

This book is a pivotal reference source for students, scholars, and public figures interested in social behavior, religious studies, and politics.

ISBN: 9781522505167

Release Date: July, 2016

Copyright: 2017

Pages: 332

Topics Covered:

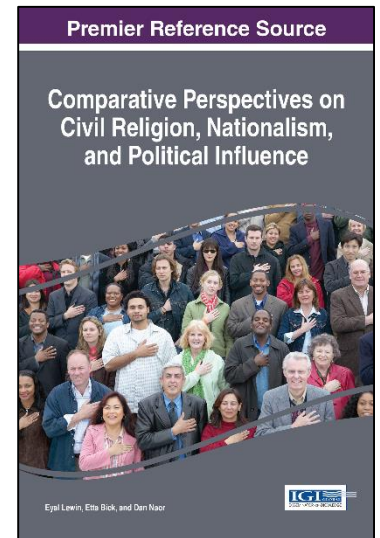

- Communication Patterns
- Comparative Religion
- Counter-Nationalism
- Political Theories
- Religious Considerations
- Sign Language
- Women's Rights

Hardcover +
Free E-Access:

$185.00

E-Access +
Free Hardcover:

$185.00

Order Information

Phone: 717-533-8845 x100

Toll Free: 1-866-342-6657

Fax: 717-533-8661 or 717-533-7115

Online Bookstore: www.igi-global.com

Table of Contents

Chapter 1:

Religion and Politics: A Troubled Relationship in a Volatile World

Keren Sasson, Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Israel

Chapter 2:

The Theocratic Deception Trap: Khomeini's persuasion Techniques and Communication Patterns in His Books

Tabassom Fanian, University of Oslo, Norway

Chapter 3:

Anti-Semitism as a Civil Religion: Progressive Paradigms in the Anti-Semitic Construction of German National Identity

Marc Neugröschel, Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Israel

Chapter 4:

How Civic is Russia's New Civil Religion and How Religious is the Church?

Yuri Teper, Ariel University, Israel and University of Manchester, UK

Chapter 5:

The Clash of Civil Religions in Post-Revolutionary Egypt

Bosmat Yefet, Ariel University, Israel

Chapter 6:

National-Liberty Reflections of the Exodus Myth in Palestine-Israel Print Media Advertisements, 1923-1958

Dorit Zimand Sheiner, Ariel University, Israel

Chapter 7:

The Haredi Scholar-Society and the Military Draft in Israel: Counter-Nationalism and the Imagined Military Symbiosis

Nissim Leon, Bar-Ilan University, Israel

Chapter 8:

Avoiding Conscription in Israel: Were Women Pawns in the Political Game?

Nurit Gillath, Independent researcher, Israel

Chapter 9:

Values, Constraints, and Maneuvers: Processes of Academization Among Ultra-Orthodox Women and Beduin Women in Israel

Tehila Kalagy, Ben Gurion University, Israel

Eyal Lewin is Chair of the Department of Multidisciplinary Studies at Ariel University. He is a research fellow at the Kinneret Center on Peace, Security and Society. He is also the director of the annual longitudinal survey of national resilience, conducted by the Center for National Security Studies at the University of Haifa. Additionally, he serves as the secretary of the Association of Civil-Military Studies in Israel. Lewin is the author of academic papers and books focusing on general socio-political phenomena such as patriotism, national resilience, and national ethos.

Etta Bick is a Senior Lecturer in the Department of Middle East Studies and Political Science at Ariel University. She specializes in comparative politics, religion and politics and studies in citizenship. She has published widely on the role of American Jews in Israel-U.S. relations, Israel's political parties, rabbis in Israeli politics and most recently a series of articles on national civilian service in Israel. She is currently writing a book on the politics behind the expansion of national civilian service in Israel.

Dan Naor is a researcher in the Department of Middle Eastern Studies at Bar Ilan University and Ariel University. His research interests include Lebanese history, politics and society, and the Lebanese-Syrian relations. He has published several articles in journals such as Middle Eastern Studies, British Journal of Middle Eastern Studies and Israel Affairs.