

Preparing Pre-Service Teachers for the Inclusive Classroom

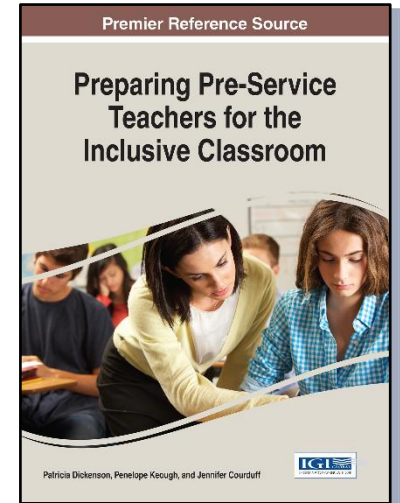

Part of the Advances in Higher Education and Professional Development Book Series

Patricia Dickenson (National University, USA), Penelope Keough (National University, USA) and Jennifer Courduff (Azusa Pacific University, USA)

Description:

Teachers must be prepared to create an effective learning environment for both general education students and students with special needs. This can be accomplished by equipping teachers with the proper knowledge and strategies.

Preparing Pre-Service Teachers for the Inclusive Classroom discusses the latest approaches, skills, and methodologies on how to support special needs students. Highlights relevant perspectives on technology implementation, curriculum development, and instructional design.

Readers:

This book is an ideal reference source for pre-service teachers, teacher educators, researchers, professionals, and academics in the education field.

ISBN: 9781522517535

Release Date: January, 2017

Copyright: 2017

Pages: 300

Topics Covered:

- Assistive Technology
- Autonomous Learners
- Common Core State Standards
- Mathematics Instruction
- Secondary Education
- Student-Teacher Relationships
- Writing and Reading Instruction

Hardcover +
Free E-Book:

$180.00

E-Book Only:

$180.00

Order Information

Phone: 717-533-8845 x100
Toll Free: 1-866-342-6657
Fax: 717-533-8661 or 717-533-7115
Online Bookstore: www.igi-global.com

Preparing Pre-Service Teachers for the Inclusive Classroom

Table of Contents

Foreword

Preface

Section 1

The Pre-Service Teacher

This Section explores how Pre-service teachers are prepared and what beginning teachers experience

Chapter 1

What Do We Know, Where Can We Grow: Teacher Preparation for the Inclusive Classroom

Patricia Dickenson, National University, USA

Chapter 2

Discovering basics: Assistive technology (AT) and augmentative alternative communication (AAC) – law and practice

Jennifer Courduff, Azusa Pacific University, USA

Chapter 3

Teaching the Individual: Angelica's Inquiry

Patricia Jean Crain de Galarce, Lesley University
Roxanne White, Urban Teachers

Section 2

Designing Instruction

This Section examines methods in which teachers design instruction to reach all learners.

Chapter 4

Instructional Scaffolding to Promote an Autonomous Learner

Jess L Gregory, Southern Connecticut State University

Chapter 5

Supporting Secondary Students with Disabilities in an Inclusive Environment

Pam Epler, Grand Canyon University, USA

Chapter 6

Best Practices Implementing Special Education Curriculum and Common Core State Standards using UDL

Penelope Keough, National University, USA
Dina Pacis, National University, USA

Section 3

Meeting Content Demands

Chapter 7

Teaching Writing to Low Socio-Economic Students with Learning Disabilities and Austim Spectrum Disorder

David Rago, National University

Chapter 8

Mathematics Strategies

Loreilie; Chapman Whittier College

Chapter 9

Specific Learning Disabilities: Reading, Spelling, and Writing Strategies

George Uduigwome, Los Angeles Unified School District, USA

Chapter 10

Addressing the Needs in Reading of the Dyslexic Learner in the Inclusive Classroom

Enid Acosta-Tello, National University

Section 4

Teaching the Individual

How teachers can support and connect with all children in the inclusive classroom.

Chapter 11

The Masking Effect: Hidden Gifts and Disabilities of 2e Students

Jessica Cannaday, Azusa Pacific University

Chapter 12

Educating the Whole Child: Academic, Social, and Emotional Learning

Denise Hexom, National University, USA
Shaila Mulholland, National University, USA

Chapter 13

Implementing Effective Student Study Teams

Tricia Crosby-Cooper, National University
Dina Pacis, National University, USA

Chapter 14

Parents as Partners in the Special Education Process: A Parent's Perspective with Suggestions for Educators

Cynthia Mary Sistik-Chandler, National University, USA

Compilation of References

About the Contributors

Index

Patricia A. Dickenson, Ed.D., is an Assistant Professor of Teacher Education at National University, in San Jose California. Her administrative responsibilities include Program lead for the Bachelors of Arts in Interdisciplinary Studies with the Multiple and Single Subject teaching credential. Dr. Dickenson's teaching and research area focus on teacher professional development in technology and mathematics, and teacher preparation. Dr. Dickenson began teaching for the Los Angeles Unified School District and has taught elementary, middle and high school. Dr. Dickenson was also a mathematics coach and continues to work with inservice teachers as part of the University of California Mathematics Project. Dr. Dickenson recent publication includes editor-in-chief of Increasing Productivity and Efficiency in Online Teaching and author and speaker of the video series The Digital Professor: Creating an Online Presence. She maintains a professional website around topics of teacher education and preparation at: www.doctorofed.com and maintains an active Twitter feed: @teacherpreptech.

Penelope Keough is an Associate Professor in the Department of Special Education at National University in La Jolla California.

Jennifer Courduff is an associate professor at Azusa Pacific University where she develops and teaches courses in the Master of Arts: Digital Teaching and Learning program. She is an active member of the International Society for Technology in Education (ISTE). Her research and presentations focus on technology integration within diverse learning environments and mobile learning.

Order Information

Phone: 717-533-8845 x100

Toll Free: 1-866-342-6657

Fax: 717-533-8661 or 717-533-7115

Online Bookstore: www.igi-global.com

