Transforming K-12 Classrooms with Digital Technology

Part of the Advances in Early Childhood and K-12 Education Book Series

Zongkai Yang (Central China Normal University, P. R. China), Harrison Hao Yang (State University of New York at Oswego, USA & Central China Normal University, P. R. China), Di Wu (Central China Normal University, P. R. China) and Sanya Liu (Central China Normal University, P. R. China)

Digital and social technologies are changing the education field. Interactive whiteboards and blackboards, e-books, and computer-mediated communication are accelerating the processes of the evolving classroom. These technologies continue to support problem solving, critical thinking, and collaboration skills among students.

Transforming K-12 Classrooms with Digital Technology brings together research and practices regarding digital and social technology integration in the K-12 classroom. By sharing practical and conceptual aspects of using digital and social technologies as tools for transforming K-12 learning environments, this reference source is essential for teachers, support staff, school and district administrators, college students, and researchers working, teaching, and learning in the digital era.

Topics Covered:

- Problem-Based Learning
- Learning Environments
- Social Interaction
- Technology Integration
- Common Core Standards
- Digital and Social Technologies
