E-Marketing in Developed and Developing Countries: Emerging Practices

Hatem El-Gohary (Birmingham City University Business School, UK and Cairo University Business School, Egypt) and Riyad Eid (United Arab Emirates University, UAE)

While e-marketing has emerged as an aid in allowing businesses to reach a broader audience, evolutions in computer science and technology have made its comprehension a bit more complex.

E-Marketing in Developed and Developing Countries: Emerging Practices aims to create a deeper understanding of the policies and practices that are involved in a successful e-marketing environment. This publication highlights the strategies and applications currently being used in both developed and developing countries; proving to be beneficial for entrepreneurs, policy makers, researchers, and students wishing to expand their comprehensive knowledge in this field.

Topics Covered:
- Business Management and Development
- Digital Age Marketing
- Digital Divide
- E-Commerce
- E-Marketing
- Empirical Research
