

Healthcare Administration and Managerial Training in the 21st Century

Part of the Advances in Healthcare Information Systems and Administration Book Series

Vijit Chaturvedi (Amity University, India), Prashant Singh (Independent Researcher, India), Anandhi Ramachandran Divya Aggarwal

Description:

Navigating technological advancements, policy reforms, and evolving patient needs poses significant challenges in the complex realm of healthcare management. Traditional training approaches often need to improve healthcare leaders' skills to manage these complexities effectively. This gap between the demands of healthcare administration and the skills of its leaders is a pressing issue facing the industry today.

Healthcare Administration and Managerial Training in the 21st Century offers a comprehensive solution by gathering insights, research, and case studies from experts in healthcare administration and managerial training. It serves as a vital resource for understanding the intricacies of healthcare management, the effectiveness of different training methods, and the practical applications of theoretical knowledge. By synthesizing the latest research and practical approaches, the book aims to bridge the gap between traditional training and the demands of modern healthcare leadership.

Healthcare Administration and Managerial Training in the 21st Century provides a holistic view of healthcare administration and managerial training, identifying challenges and opportunities within the field. It explores effective leadership and management strategies tailored to the healthcare sector's unique demands, considering the impact of technology, policy, and economic factors. The book aims to prepare healthcare managers to lead with competence and agility in an ever-evolving industry landscape by offering insights into innovative training programs and global variations in healthcare management practices.
