

Implementing Interactive Learning Strategies in Higher Education

Part of the Implementing Interactive Learning Strategies in Higher Education Book Series

Elena Aurel Railean (Information Society Development Institute, Moldova)

Description:

Higher education faces the ongoing challenge of engaging students in successful lifelong learning despite rapidly evolving environments. Traditional teaching methods need to be revised to prepare students for the complexities of modern society, as they currently leave a gap between theory and practice.

To address this dilemma, Implementing Interactive Learning Strategies in Higher Education offers a comprehensive framework and the latest empirical research to help educators address students' diverse learning needs. The book focuses on active and interactive learning strategies, cognitive and metacognitive approaches, and social-emotional learning techniques. It provides practical insights for educators across disciplines, including adaptive learning strategies and innovative digital engagement methods.

The book is a vital resource for professionals and researchers seeking to navigate the frontier of higher education. Whether you're an educator, administrator, or executive concerned with global education and citizenship, this book offers practical solutions to the complex challenges faced by modern universities.
