

Thank you for your interest in publishing with IGI Global!

The following information will be used to conduct an assessment of your proposed special issue. Please fill out each section thoroughly, as this will assist in expediting the review process. Once completed and submitted to the Journal Development Department, the proposal will be forwarded to the Editor(s)-in-Chief of the journal for consideration.

Editor Information

Please list all editors for this special issue, including name(s), affiliation(s), and email address(es).

Tentative Title

Please provide a tentative title for your special issue.

Description

Please provide a detailed description on the theme, coverage, and objectives of this special issue.

Schedule of Deadlines

Please list a prospective schedule of deadlines for the proposed special issue, including due dates for full paper submissions, author acceptance notices, and final accepted materials.

Submission Considerations

Please specify:

- a. Estimated number of submissions you expect to receive.
- b. Approximate number of final accepted submissions for the special issue.

Solicitation Venues

Please detail your plan for reaching contributors, listing out the various channels and efforts to be used for recruiting submissions.

Additional Criteria

Please provide information on the following items:

- a. Which IGI Global journal do you wish to submit the special issue for consideration in?

- b. Are the papers to be included within the special issue based on conference proceedings, or will you be soliciting new papers for publication?

Conference Proceedings

New Papers for Publication

Both

Thank you for your interest in IGI Global.

To submit your proposal, please save it to your computer and then send it to our Journal Development Department at journaleditor@igi-global.com as an email attachment. We also ask that you please submit the most recent copy of your CV/resume to accompany your proposal.